*Have to leave, be brave to cry and your expression in eyes is deeper than language can say.
Without saying goodbye, we still can understand.
Separation can't symbolize changing.
Who needs whom, like white cloud and blue sky.
There is a pretty picture only when we stay together.
When the strong wind is blowing.
We are not too far away to each other.
Always remember that feeling before next time we meet.
Land and sky all link together, willful seasons.
Spring always comes after winter. Hope will never wilt.*

*Land and sky all link together, a picture forever.
I close my eyes when I miss you, you are inside my heart.
Before we say goodbye, I have missed you already.
Let expectation connect our memory.
Walk slowly, no matter how far it is.
Remembering symbolize our love will never change.*
